CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 12-1-1. Purpose

The purpose of this Title is threefold. The primary purpose is to provide for the protection of children under the jurisdiction of the Tribe. Specifically, to ensure that the appropriate level of care and guidance, which will serve the spiritual, emotional, mental, and physical welfare of such children, is provided to them. It is deemed that the best interest of the children are the best interests of the Omaha Tribe of Nebraska.

The second purpose of this Title is to provide for those children in need of supervision, those children whose behavior and deportment threaten their individual personal growth and well-being, or the structure of their family structure, without rising to the level of delinquency.

The final purpose of this Title is to identify and define acts of juvenile delinquency and to provide for those rehabilitative structures that both benefit the child and serve to protect the Tribe from youthful offenders whose actions threaten the community and Tribe as a whole until such time as they may be successfully rehabilitated and reincorporated into the Tribe.

This Title is also intended to provide procedures for securing the Omaha Tribe's jurisdiction over children who are members of the Tribe or who are eligible for membership in the Tribe as the subject of a state child custody proceeding as defined by the Indian Child Welfare Act.

Underlying the purposes of these laws are some fundamental guiding principals. To strengthen family ties; to preserve and strengthen the child's cultural and tribal identity; to secure for every child removed from his home that care, control, and guidance as nearly equivalent to that which he should be given by his parents; to help the child develop into a responsible, well-adjusted adult; to improve any conditions or home environment which may be contributing to the child's delinquency; and to protect the peace and security of the tribal community, and its individual residents from child abuse and neglect. And, lastly to provide for those rehabilitative and deterrent measures designed to help guide those youth whose behaviors injure themselves or the community while balancing the needs of the community and Tribe.

SECTION 12-1-2. Definitions

(a) "Abandoned" means the failure of the parent to maintain "any" contact with a child. CHAPTER 2. DEPARTMENT OF CHILD PROTECTION SERVICES

SECTION 12-2-1. Responsibility

The Department of Child Protection Services (CPS) shall be under the authority of the Tribe. The Department of Child Protection Services (CPS) shall provide support to those law enforcement agencies tasked with the enforcement of all laws relating to the welfare of children, including assisting sworn Law Enforcement Officers when the officers remove children from a parental or custodial home. This shall include laws related to abuse and neglect, and all other laws designed to protect and assist children and shall take the initiative in securing enforcement of laws for the protection of children where no adequate provision is made for such enforcement. CPS shall also provide services as ordered by the Omaha Tribal Youth Court and such other voluntary services as may be available.

SECTION 12-2-2. Rules and Regulations

The Omaha Tribal Counsel, or its designated representative, shall be the final authority promulgating rules and regulations for The Department of Child Protection Services. The Department of Child Protection Services shall operate under this Title and such other rules and regulations as may be promulgated for the enforcement of child welfare laws including standards for child care agencies, foster care standards and licensing requirements, adoption services, alcohol/drug counseling services, foster care payments and any other rules, consistent with these laws, which are necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Title.

SECTION 12-2-3. Foster Care Licensing

The Tribe, through the Department of Child Protection Services, may issue tribal licenses for foster care homes. Licensing requirements and standards shall be set by the Department of Child Protection Services but shall at a minimum include:

Child Protective Services workers, or other members of the Department, shall have no authority to remove children not under their custody from parental or custodial homes. The decision to remove a child must be made by a sworn member of Omaha Tribal Law Enforcement based upon the Officer's independent judgment.

CHAPTER 3. INDIAN CHILD WELFARE ACT REQUIREMENTS

SECTION 12-3-1. Purpose

The purpose of this Chapter is to ensure compliance with and implement procedures to facilitate the requirements and spirit of the Federal Indian Child Welfare Act. Recognizing that the Federal Indian Child Welfare Act does not apply to the actions of the Tribe or its sovereign Court the Omaha Tribe nevertheless recognizes the importance of Act and the spirit of the Act; therefore, the Omaha Tribe hereby delineates standards by which the Omaha Tribe upholds the spirit of the Federal Act. In addition, Omaha Tribal Indian Child Welfare Act provides procedures whenever an Indian child who is a member of or eligible for membership with more than one tribe is the subject of a child custody proceeding in the Omaha Tribal Court. This chapter also provides procedures and standards to secure the rights of a child who is the subject of a child custody proceeding in another forum and who is a member or eligible for membership with the Omaha Tribe.

SECTION 12-3-2. Application

The Omaha Tribal Indian Child Welfare Act applies to child custody proceedings involving Indian children whether such children are in the physical or legal custody of an Indian parent, Indian custodian, or an Indian extended family member or any other person or institution at the commencement of any such proceeding or whether such children have been residents or domiciled on or off an Indian reservation.

SECTION 12-3-3. Transfer of Jurisdiction to the Youth Court of the Omaha Tribe

Whenever a child who is a member or eligible for membership in the Tribe is the subject of a child custody proceeding in another jurisdiction, the Tribe shall take the following steps to secure the Tribe's jurisdiction over the child:

- (a) In the case of a child who resides outside the exterior boundaries of the Omaha Reservation, the Tribe may file a motion to transfer jurisdiction to the Tribal Court. If the motion is denied, the case may be appealed. The guidelines for determining whether to request a transfer under this Section include:

- (1) The child's ties, if any, with the Tribe;
- (2) Whether the child previously resided within the exterior boundaries of the Reservation;
- (3) Whether the child has been abandoned by his parents, guardian or Indian custodian;
- (4) Whether the parents have requested a transfer of jurisdiction to Tribal Court;
- (5) Whether the child is of sufficient age or maturity to express an opinion as to whether he/she desires to be returned to the jurisdiction of the Tribe;
- (6) The stability of the child's family residing within the territorial jurisdiction of the Tribe;
- (7) Whether the Tribe has expressed by resolution that it is in the best interest of the Tribe and the child to request a transfer of jurisdiction.

(b) The director of the Omaha Tribe's Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) Department, the Department's legal representative or other party so designated by the Omaha Tribe shall be the party or agency vested with the authority to determine, under Section (a) above, whether a Motion to Transfer Jurisdiction should be filed. This power may be vested with a Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) board if the Tribe sees fit to appoint one.

(c) If a child is transferred to the jurisdiction of the Tribal Court, the Court shall proceed with the case under the procedures provided in this chapter. In the absence of provision for procedures under this chapter, the Court shall proceed with the case under the procedures provided for youth in other chapters of this Title.

SECTION 12-3-4. Intervention Required; Purpose

Whenever a child who is a member or eligible for membership with the Tribe is the subject of a child custody proceeding in a state court or other forum, the Tribe shall file a motion to intervene in the case. The purpose of the Tribe's intervention include, but are not limited to, ensuring that the placement preferences of the federal Indian Child Welfare Act are followed and to ensure that any disposition of the child is culturally and socially appropriate for the child's needs and the Tribe's interests.

SECTION 12-3-5. Waiver of Transfer and Intervention Requirements; Extraordinary Circumstances

The requirements for transfer of jurisdiction and intervention may be waived by the Tribe if extraordinary circumstances exist. Extraordinary circumstances include, but are not limited to, excessive cost to the Tribe.

SECTION 12-3-6. Enforcement Responsibility

Enforcement of this chapter shall be the responsibility of the tribal prosecutor, the Indian Child Welfare Act Program, Department of Child Protection Services and the Tribe.

SECTION 12-3-7. Jurisdiction over Child Custody Proceedings Initiated in the Omaha Tribal Courts

The Omaha Tribe shall have exclusive jurisdiction over child custody proceedings initiated in the Omaha Tribal Court when the subject of those proceedings is eligible for membership in the Omaha Tribe but in no other tribe. The Omaha Tribe shall have concurrent jurisdiction over child custody proceedings initiated in the Omaha Tribal Court when the subject of those proceedings is eligible for membership in more than one tribe.

SECTION 12-3-8. Preference for Omaha Tribal Membership

In the event that a minor child becomes the subject of an action before the Omaha Tribal Court which would qualify under this Chapter as an ICWA applicable case, and the minor is not enrolled in any Federally recognized Tribe or Band, where the minor child may be eligible for membership in more than one Tribe and one of the Tribe's for which the minor may be eligible is the Omaha Tribe there shall exist a rebuttable presumption that the Omaha Tribal Court shall retain jurisdiction. This may only be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence presented by an Official of another Tribe in which the minor may claim eligibility that the ties which bind the minor to the other Tribe are superior to those which bind the minor to the Omaha Tribe.

SECTION 12-3-9. Transfer of Proceedings from the Omaha Tribal Court to Another Tribal Judicial System

(a) In any child custody proceeding for the foster care placement of, or termination of parental rights to, an Indian child, the Omaha Tribal Court may, at the discretion of the court, transfer such proceeding to the jurisdiction of another tribe in which the child is a member or eligible for membership upon the petition of either parent, the Indian custodian or the child's other tribe. Provided, that such transfer shall be subject to declination by the tribal court of such tribe.

A written determination by an Indian tribe that a child is a member of or eligible for membership in that tribe, or testimony attesting to such status by a person authorized by the tribe to provide such testimony, shall be conclusive. A written determination by an Indian tribe, or testimony by a person authorized by the tribe to provide such testimony, that a child is not a member of or eligible for membership in that tribe shall be conclusive as to that tribe. In the event that no tribe provides evidence on the child's status as an Indian child, the court shall determine the child's status.

SECTION 12-3-10. Intervention in an Omaha Tribal Court Proceeding by Another Party

In any child custody proceeding for the foster care placement of, or termination of parental rights to, an Indian child, the Indian custodian of the child who is the subject of the proceeding and the other tribe in which the child is a member or eligible for membership shall have a right to intervene at any point in the proceeding.

SECTION 12-3-11. Full Faith and Credit to Public Acts, Records, and Judicial Proceedings of Indian Tribes

The Omaha Tribe shall give full faith and credit to the public acts, records and judicial proceedings of any Indian tribe applicable to child custody proceedings to the same extent that such entities give full faith and credit to the public acts, records and judicial proceedings of any other entity.

SECTION 12-3-12. Pending Court Proceedings

(a) Notice; time for commencement of proceedings; additional time for preparation

In any involuntary proceeding, including review hearings, where the court knows or has reason to know that an Indian child who is a member or eligible for membership in any other tribe is involved, the party seeking the foster care placement of, or termination of parental rights to, an Indian child shall notify the parents, Indian custodian and the child's tribe, by registered mail with return receipt requested, of the pending proceedings and of their right of intervention. If the identity or location of the parent or Indian custodian and the tribe cannot be determined, such notice shall be given to the United States Secretary of the Interior in like manner, who shall have fifteen days after receipt to provide the requisite notice to the parents, Indian custodian and the tribe. No foster care placement or termination of parental rights proceeding shall be held until at least ten days after receipt of notice by the parents, Indian custodian and the tribe or the Secretary: Provided, that the parent, Indian custodian or the tribe shall, upon request, be granted up to twenty additional days to prepare for such proceeding.

(b) Representation by counsel

Parties to child custody proceedings may be represented by counsel of their own choosing at their own expense.

(c) Examination of reports or other documents

Each party to a foster care placement or termination of parental rights proceeding shall have the right to examine all reports or other documents filed with the court.

(d) In any child custody proceeding, the court or any party shall be deemed to know or have reason to know that an Indian child who is a member of or eligible for membership with another tribe is involved whenever

(1) A party or the court has been informed by any interested party, an officer of the court, a tribe, an Indian organization, a public or private agency or a member of the child's extended family that the child is or may be a member of or eligible for membership with more than one tribe; or

(2) The child who is the subject of the proceeding gives the court reason to believe he or she is or may be a member of or eligible for membership with more than one tribe.

(3) The Court shall be deemed to have knowledge of the child's membership status if any member of the Court Staff, Legal Counsel employed at the Tribal Court or employee of the Tribe's ICWA Department or CPS Department has been so informed under the requirements of sub-Section 12-3-12 (d)(1) above.

(4) There shall be an affirmative duty on all parties and their legal counsel or Tribal Employees detailed above to inform the Court in writing or by sworn testimony of any knowledge of a minor's potential eligibility for enrollment in another Tribe.

SECTION 12-3-13. Parental Rights; Voluntary Termination

(a) Consent; record; certification matters; invalid consents

Where any parent or Indian custodian voluntarily consents to a foster care placement or to a termination of parental rights, such consent shall not be valid unless executed in writing and recorded before a judge of a court of competent jurisdiction and accompanied by the presiding judge's certificate that the terms and consequences of the consent were fully explained in detail and were fully understood by the parent or Indian custodian. The court shall enter a final decree of disposition which shall include one or more of the following provisions appropriate as the least restrictive alternative available;

(a) Place the child in the custody of one or both parents or in the custody of another individual under the preferences set out in Section 12-5-13, without a court approved plan for long term foster care, subject to the conditions that the court deems necessary and appropriate;

(b) Place the child in the custody of the Department of Child Protection Services, or if need be to the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services pursuant to court approved plan for placement under Section 12-5-13.

(c) Order that the child be examined by a physician or qualified mental health professional or that the child receive other special care or be placed in a suitable facility for such purposes as the court deems necessary or appropriate. Further hearings shall be held as necessary following any examination.

(d) The Court may order, under the provisions under Chapter 9 of this Title, that the minor child be emancipated.

If disposition of the child under this Section involves the removal from, or the non-return of the child to, the home of the child's parents, guardian or custodian and placement of the child in the custody of the Department of Child Protection Services of the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services for placement in foster care, the court shall include in the decree a written judicial determination, supported by a preponderance of the evidence, that the continued custody of the child by the child's parents, guardian or custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical harm to the child and that remedial and rehabilitative measures have been attempted and proven unsuccessful.

SECTION 12-5-31. Notice of Final Decree

Notice of entry of order of adjudication or final decree of disposition issued by the court shall be served on the child's attorney or guardian ad litem, and other respondent parties. Notice by publication shall be published in a newspaper most likely to provide notice to the parties for at least thirty (30) days and shall be completed five (5) days after the date of publication. Appeal from a final decree begins on the day following the date of completed service of the notice of entry regardless of the manner in which the notice of entry is served. An appeal of a final order must be entered within thirty (30) days of the final date of order.

SECTION 12-5-32. Requirement for Review Hearing

In every case where there has been an adjudication and the child remains either in an out of home placement or in the home, but under the wardship of the Omaha Tribal Court, Omaha Tribal CPS or the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services there will be a hearing no less than every six months to review progress in the case and placement.

SECTION 12-5-33. Criteria for Determining Continued Placement

In conducting the review hearing required by 5-5-32, the court may continue placement of the child separate from the home of the child's parents, guardian or custodian upon a written judicial determination that return of the child to the home would likely result in serious emotional or physical harm to the child and that remedial and rehabilitative measures which would make it possible for the child to return to the home have been attempted and proven unsuccessful. In making this determination, the court may consider the following criteria:

(a) The goals of the foster care placement and the appropriateness of the foster care;

(b) The assistance and services which have been offered to reunite the child with the child's parents guardian or custodian and the good faith efforts, or their lack, and ability of the child's parents, guardian or custodian to cooperate with the department and to effectively utilize the assistance and services for the benefit and welfare of the child; and

(c) If the return of the child to the home of the child's parents, guardian or custodian is not likely, the reasonable efforts of the department that have been made or should be made to provide for other methods of care in keeping with the best interests of the child.

Any child adjudicated to be an abused or neglected child, youthful offender or child in need of supervision, and awarded by the court to a guardian or institution or governmental entity with placement at the entities discretion, shall be held by the guardian or institution or governmental entity by virtue of the order or decree entered of record in the case. The court shall order a decree as proof of the authority of the guardian or institution over the child.

SECTION 12-5-35. Guardianship of the Estate of the Child

(a) Unless otherwise specifically ordered by the court in its order or decree, nothing in this Chapter or any other Chapter of this Title gives the guardianship of the estate of the child to any guardian appointed, or changes the age of minority of a child for any purpose unless the child is a person under age twenty-one (21) years who is under the continuing jurisdiction of the court.

(b) Subsection (1) above specifically does apply to per capita payments. Acceptance of guardianship of a child does not without specific order of the court grant the guardian the ability to access the per capita account in any fashion. However, such an award of guardianship shall serve to terminate the access of non-custodial parents to the child's per capita account. The parents shall be advised of this and any such attempt to access the child's per capita account shall be prima facie evidence of theft by deception under Title 5 of this Code.

(c) The court may appoint a guardian of the estate of the child who is under the age of eighteen (18) years if the child is within the jurisdiction of the court and the court specifically finds that appointment of a guardian of the estate is necessary and appropriate under the circumstances and is in the best interests of the child.

SECTION 12-5-36. Period of Continuation of Guardianship/Application for New Guardian, Restoration to Parents or Discharge of Guardianship

Guardianship of the person or of the estate of the child shall continue until the court orders otherwise, but not after the child has attained the age of majority. The child or representative of the child, or any interested party may from time to time, upon a proper showing, apply to the court for the appointment of a new guardian, for restoration of the child to the custody of the child's parents, if parental rights have not been terminated, or for the discharge of the guardian appointed by the court at the final disposition of the child.

SECTION 12-5-37. Modification or Setting Aside Order or Decree

The court may modify or set aside any order or decree. Modification of a prior order or decree shall not be made without a hearing under either of the following circumstances:

(a) Upon violation of the terms of probation governing a child in need of supervision or youthful offender; or

(b) The effect of modifying or setting aside the order or decree would be to deprive a parent of custody of the child or make a change in custody.

SECTION 12-5-38. Petition for Modification or Termination of Custody Decree

After placement of custody of a child by the court with an individual, institution or agency, a parent whose parental rights have not been terminated, or a former guardian or custodian of the child may petition the court for restoration of custody or other modification or termination of the prior custodial order or decree on the grounds that a material change of circumstance has occurred which requires the modification or termination in the best interests of the child and the Tribe.

SECTION 12-5-39. Petition for New Hearing on Grounds of New Evidence

A child and/or a representative of the child or a child's parents, guardian or custodian may petition the court for a new hearing, related to adjudication or disposition, on the ground of newly discovered evidence which was not known and could not, with due diligence, have been available at the original adjudicatory or dispositional hearing. A hearing on the petition shall be conducted and, upon a finding by the court that new evidence exists which might affect the original order or decree, the court shall order a new hearing, limited to consideration of newly discovered evidence, and shall proceed with a revised determination of the case as warranted by the evidence. In all cases, the decision to hold a new hearing shall be discretionary with the court.

CHAPTER 11. COMPULSORY EDUCATION

SECTION 12-11-1. Age; Attendance Required; Exceptions

(a) For purposes of this section, a child is of mandatory attendance age if the child (a) will reach six years of age prior to January 1 of the then-current school year and (b) has not reached eighteen years of age.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, every person residing in the Umonhon Nation Public School District who has legal or actual charge or control of any child who is of mandatory attendance age or is enrolled in a public school shall cause such child to enroll in, if such child is not enrolled, and attend regularly a school, each day that such school is open and in session, except when excused by school authorities or when illness or severe weather conditions make attendance impossible or impracticable.

(c) Subsection (b) of this section does not apply in the case of any child who:

- (1) Has obtained a high school diploma by meeting the graduation requirements; or
- (2) Has reached sixteen years of age and has been withdrawn from school in compliance with state and tribal laws.

SECTION 12-11-2. Nonattendance Lists; Transmission to Enforcement Officers

(a) The superintendent or administrator of the school district, upon the receipt of a list of enrolled students, shall (1) compare the names of the children enrolled with the last census report on file in his or her office from such district, (2) prepare a list of all children resident in such district under his or her jurisdiction who are not attending school as provided in section 12-10-1, and (3) transmit the list to the truancy officer or officers in such district whose duty it is to enforce the provisions of such section.

SECTION 12-11-3. Nonattendance; School District; Duties; Remedial Services; Enforcement

(a) Any superintendent, principal, teacher, or member of the school board who knows of any violation of section 12-10-1 on the part of any child of school age, his or her parent, the person in actual or legal control of such child, or any other person shall within three days report such violation to the truancy officer of the school, who shall investigate the case. When of his or her personal knowledge, by report or complaint from any resident of the district, or by report or complaint as provided in this section, the truancy officer believes that any child is unlawfully absent from school, the truancy officer shall immediately investigate.

(b) The school district shall have a written policy on excessive absenteeism developed in collaboration with the tribal prosecutor. The policy shall include a provision indicating how the school district and the tribal prosecutor will handle cases in which excessive absences are due to documented illness that makes attendance impossible or impracticable, and the policy shall state the number of absences or the hourly equivalent upon the occurrence of which the school shall render all services in its power to compel such child to attend some public, private, denominational, or parochial school, which the person having control of the child shall designate, in an attempt to address the problem of excessive absenteeism. The number of absences in the policy shall not exceed five days per quarter or the hourly equivalent. The school district may use excused and unexcused absences for purposes of the policy. The policy shall also require that the parents or the person in actual or legal control of such child assist the child with make-up work for any absence. Such services shall include, but need not be limited to:

(1) One or more meetings between a school attendance officer, school social worker or the school principal or a member of the school administrative staff designated by the school administration if such school does not have a school social worker, the child's parent or guardian, and the child, if necessary, to report and to attempt to solve the problem of excessive absenteeism;

(2) Educational counseling to determine whether educational changes, including, but not limited to, enrolling the child in an alternative education program that meets the specific educational and behavioral needs of the child, would help solve the problem of excessive absenteeism;

(3) Educational evaluation, which may include a psychological evaluation, to assist in determining the specific condition, if any, contributing to the problem of excessive absenteeism, supplemented by specific efforts by the school to help remedy any condition diagnosed; and

(4) Investigation of the problem of excessive absenteeism by the school social worker, or if such school does not have a school social worker, by the school principal or a member of the school administrative staff designated by the school administration, to identify conditions which may be contributing to the problem. If services for the child and his or her family are determined to be needed, the school social worker or the school principal or a member of the school administrative staff performing the investigation shall meet with the parent or guardian and the child to discuss any referral to appropriate community agencies for economic services, family or individual counseling, or other services required to remedy the conditions that are contributing to the problem of excessive absenteeism.

(5) The truancy officer shall report the student to the tribal prosecutor after twenty days or the hourly equivalent of unexcused absence. In the case excessive absenteeism begins after a school year starts or shortly after a student is enrolled, the truancy officer shall make contact with the parent or the person in actual or legal control of such child after five absences. This may include a visit to the home accompanied by Tribal Police. If the child is absent more than twenty days per year or the hourly equivalent and all of the absences are due to documented illness that makes attendance impossible or impracticable or are otherwise excused by school authorities, the truancy officer may report such information to the tribal prosecutor. If the child is absent more than twenty days per year or the hourly equivalent and any of such absences are not excused, the truancy officer shall file a report with the tribal prosecutor on a form which includes the following two statements, one of which must be designated by the school representative signing the report: (a) The school representative requests additional time to work with the student prior to intervention by the tribal prosecutor; and (b) the school representative believes that the school has used all reasonable efforts to resolve the student's excessive absenteeism without success and recommends intervention by the tribal prosecutor. If further action is necessary to address the child's attendance, the initial meeting between the parent or guardian of the child, the school, and the tribal prosecutor shall be at a location determined by the school.

(c) Nothing in this section shall preclude the tribal prosecutor from being involved at any stage in the process to address excessive absenteeism.

SECTION 12-11-4. Withdrawal of Child from School; Exempt from Mandatory Attendance; Withdrawal Form

(a) A person who has legal or actual charge or control of a child who is at least sixteen years of age but less than eighteen years of age may withdraw such child from school before graduation and be exempt from the mandatory attendance requirements of section 12-10-1 if a withdrawal form is signed by the superintendent of the school district, provided that withdrawal is permitted by sections 79-201 to 79-210 of the Nebraska Revised Statutes.
